

News item 9th May 2009

Its show time again, we return to the Self Build Extend & Renovate show in Galway for the 4th year running. The exhibition runs this year again for 2 days – Saturday 9th and Sunday 10th May 2009. Again we are displaying all of our new certificates, showing that eurosash is still ahead of the game.

Note, the new air leakage results were well received by all who seen them at the Better Homes show last week. But what really stood out were the official coloured BFRC labels and certificates that we have. Everyone was really impressed with the new product labelling and how easy it was to compare energy rated windows.
